INTRODUCTION

India's widespread engagement with the Southeast Asian region started with the 'Look East Policy' since 1991. However, historical evidence - both oral and written - shows that India has not only been 'Looking East' for the past two millennia, but has also engaged the east during this period, though intermittently. Cultural interactions along with trade ties have formed the bedrock of this connection (MEA India, 2013). The cultural bridge between India and Indonesia that has been in existence since the Neolithic period operates at several levels: art, architecture, popular drama and literature, Indian communities in Indonesia, and even the societal configuration of Indonesia and their struggle for freedom from colonialism (Llewellyn, 2018). This speaks volumes about the historic linkages between the two countries. Today, both countries have the distinction of being termed 'Mosaics of Cultures'. Java and Sumatra have been major trade hubs for long. In fact, from the beginning Indonesia and Southeast Asia were renowned for their monopoly over the world's spice trade. Classic texts repeatedly mentioned them as great trading places.

Political Relations :

Convergence of Nehru-Sukarno Vision of Asia:

As colonialism ended, the new states formed a close alliance. In a 1946 letter Sukarno, Indonesia's first leader, wrote to Jawaharlal Nehru, his Indian counterpart: "The word 'India' must necessarily always be part of our life for it forms the first two syllables of the name we have chosen for our land and our race." But it was not long before the cold war created a rift: India drew closer to the Soviet Union, Indonesia to the US<sup>1</sup>.

In modern times, it was the friendship between India's first PM Jawaharlal Nehru and first Indonesian President Sukarno that sowed the seeds for the close friendship between the two countries that we see today. Nehru championed the Indonesian cause as the infant nation struggled to end Dutch imperialism. In March-April 1947, Nehru hosted the first Asian Relations Conference in New Delhi to discuss the Indonesian problem. It brought together leaders of independence movements from across Asia, and was the first effort to forge an Asian unity. Biju Patnaik, later to become the chief minister of Orissa, responded to Nehru's call to pilot his aircraft to Indonesia to rescue vice president Mohammad Hatta, and PM Sutan Sjahrir from the Dutch to fly them to New Delhi to attend the conference. Years later, Sukarno made Patnaik an honorary Bumiputra<sup>2</sup>.

Nehru followed the 1947 event by hosting the Indonesia Conference in January 1949 to discuss the Dutch aggression on the nascent republic. These two conferences were precursors to the Bandung Conference of 1955 that Indonesia hosted. It was the first Afro-Asian event where both Nehru and Sukarno invoked the “spirit of Asia” and laid the foundation for the non-aligned movement. In more contemporary times, the unveiling of India’s ‘Look East Policy’ in 1991 and with India becoming a partner of the ASEAN helped New Delhi and Jakarta revive ties which were disrupted when Indonesia came under military rule between 1965 to 1998. Indonesia is the most populous, largest and the most influential of the 10-ASEAN member states. Last few years have been marked by strengthening of defence and security cooperation<sup>3</sup>.

Owing to struggle against colonial powers, democratic traditions, pluralist culture, and progressive leadership which both countries shared, India and Indonesia developed friendly relations. President Sukarno of Indonesia was the Guest of Honour during the first Republic Day of India in 1950. Independent India and Indonesia became chief votaries of independence of Asian and African countries, the spirit which led to historic Bandung Conference of 1955 and later formation of Non-Aligned Movement in 1961. Since the adoption of India’s ‘Look East Policy’ in 1991, there has been a rapid development of bilateral relations in political, security, defence, commercial and cultural fields. The current Government expressed its intent to further deepen the engagement with East Asia and by renaming the policy as “Act East”<sup>4</sup>.

Visit of Prime Minister Narendra Modi in May 2018:

Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi visited Jakarta on 29-30 May 2018 at the invitation of the President of Indonesia Mr. Joko Widodo. During this visit, both Leaders agreed to strengthen cooperation in all areas by establishing a New Comprehensive Strategic Partnership to take Indonesia and India’s bilateral relationship into a new era. During the visit, 15 agreements/MoUs were signed between the two countries including nine Government to Government level (G2G) MoUs in the areas of defence cooperation, cooperation in the exploration and uses of outer space for peaceful purposes, Scientific and Technological Cooperation, Technical Cooperation in Railways sector, Health Cooperation, on Pharmaceutical, Biological and Cosmetics Regulatory Functions, on Policy dialogue between Governments and Interaction between Think Tanks<sup>5</sup>. Both sides also agreed on a Shared Vision of India-Indonesia Maritime Cooperation in the Indo-Pacific<sup>6</sup>.

Leaders of the both countries also shared their view on the imperative need to eradicate radicalism and reiterated the importance of promoting peaceful pluralism that would lead to true civilisation harmony, and moderation through a holistic approach. They reiterated their strong condemnation of terrorism in all its forms and manifestations including cross-border terrorism and terror-related incidents in Indonesia and India and affirmed that perpetrators of these heinous acts must be brought to justice. Both leaders also affirmed that terrorism should not be associated with any religion, creed, nationality and ethnicity<sup>7</sup>.

The Prime Minister and the President also jointly inaugurated the Kite Exhibition which was based on the theme of Ramayana and Mahabharata. Both Leaders acknowledged the Recommendations and Outcome Document submitted by the members of India Indonesia CEOs’ Forum. The Leaders further instructed the regular convening of the forum and expansion of business sectors as it could function as constructive measure to tap more opportunities and potentials in developing bilateral cooperation in trade and investment.

(ASEAN) region. Bilateral trade has increased from US$ 4.3 billion in 2005-06 to US$ 20.4 billion in 2017-18.<sup>25</sup>

India is the second largest buyer of coal and crude palm oil from Indonesia and imports minerals, rubber, pulp and paper and hydrocarbons reserves. India exports refined petroleum products, commercial vehicles, telecommunication equipment, agriculture commodities, bovine meat, steel products and plastics to Indonesia.

The overall investment scenario in Indonesia is encouraging. It is an attractive destination for Indian investment in the region. There are about 30 Indian investments/Joint Ventures in Indonesia. For the five years between 2014 to 2018, investments from India averaged about USD 100 million and that figure has been bumped up because of USD 286 million committed in 2017. The mega investment in 2017 was by Adani Ports in a new container port in Banten Province in the city of Cilegon that is 100 kilometres from Jakarta in the northwest part of Java Island. In 2016, Indian investment in Indonesia was just USD 55 million<sup>27</sup>. But as most investments come through Singapore and other gateways, the quantum of investment could be much more.

Indian companies have made significant investments in infrastructure, power, textiles, steel, automotive, mining, banking and consumer goods sectors. Prominent Indian groups/companies such as Tata Power, Reliance, Adani, L&T, GMR, GVK, Trimex, Videocon, Punj Lloyd, CG Power, Madhucon, Spice, Indo Rama, Aditya Birla, JK Industries, Jindal Stainless Steel, ESSAR, Ispat, Tata Motors, Mahindra, TVS, Bajaj, Royal Enfield, Minda, Godrej, Wipro, Balmer and Lawrie, SBI and Bank of India have established fully owned subsidiaries/joint ventures in Indonesia<sup>28</sup>.

Defence and Security Cooperation :

India and Indonesia have robust cooperation in the area of defence and security. Against the backdrop of the rapidly changing security agenda facing the two nations, they have also now agreed to focus on their defense and security ties in order to jointly combat terrorism and organized crime. Their joint statement condemned terrorism in all forms, underscoring "zero tolerance" for acts of terrorism. It asked all nations to work towards eliminating terrorist safe havens and infrastructure, disrupting terrorist networks and their financing channels and stopping cross-border terrorism. In a message to China, which has been blocking India's move to get Jaish-e-Mohammed chief Masood Azhar designated a global terrorist, the two nations called upon all countries to implement the UN Security Council Resolution 1267 (banning militant groups and their leaders) and other resolutions designating terrorist entities. The two nations also underline the need to combat and eliminate "illegal, unregulated and unreported fishing" and recognized transnational organized fisheries crime as one of the emerging crimes which needs to be tackled on an urgent basis<sup>30</sup>.

In May 2018, during the visit of the Hon'ble Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi, a new defence Cooperation Agreement was signed to reflect the elevation of relationship between the two countries to a Comprehensive Strategic Partnership. Unclassified Activities relating to cooperation in the area of Defence and Security are regularly monitored and new areas discussed during the Biennial Defence Ministers Dialogue, the annual Joint Defence Cooperation Meetings and the service level Staff Talks. Most recently, the Hon'ble Defence Minister of India, Smt Nirmala Sitharaman, visited Indonesia from 21-24 Oct 2018 and in addition to the meeting with her counterpart, Gen (Retd) Ryamizard Raycudu, Defence Minister of Republic of Indonesia<sup>31</sup>, had meeting with Gen (Retd) Luhut Panjaitan, Coordinating Minister for Maritime, Gen (Retd) Wiranto, and Coordinating Minister for Political, Legal, and Security Affairs<sup>32</sup>.

Presently the cooperation between the two countries is deep and robust covering a wide range of areas. There are regular engagements at the operational level between the three services, and discussions on matters of mutual interest relating to regional security and information sharing. Engagements in capacity building through training and cooperation in the area of defence industry are also pursued based on mutual interest. Following the aftermath of the earthquake and tsunami in Palu and Donggala of Western Sulawesi province of Indonesia on 28th September 2018, Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi had telephonic conversation with President Joko Widodo on 1st October 2018. Subsequently Operation Samudra Maitri, the operation for humanitarian assistance for the victims of earthquake and tsunami was launched on 3rd

The exercise is conducted on a reciprocal basis and its first edition was conducted in the year 2012 in India. The second edition was conducted in Indonesia in 2013 and third in India in 2014. The exercise is aimed at building and promoting positive relations between the two Armies of India and Indonesia<sup>33</sup>.

Maritime cooperation :

During the official visit of the Prime Minister of India to the Republic of Indonesia on 29-30 May 2018, leaders of the both countries discussed the shared vision of the two countries on Maritime Cooperation in the Indo-Pacific. Recalling the Joint Statement by the two countries on Maritime Cooperation on 12 December 2016 during the State visit of President Jokowi to India both countries affirmed that being the maritime neighbours and sea faring nations, their relations are rooted in civilizational contacts developed through the seas and they share similar perceptions of the evolving maritime environment in the region and world at large. With a coastline of 7,500 kms, with more than 1,380 islands and more than two million sq. km of Exclusive Economic Zone, India occupies a central position in the Indo-Pacific, while Indonesia as the largest archipelagic State in the world, with a coastline of 108,000 kms, with 17,504 islands and features and a total of maritime areas of 6,400,000 sq. km including Exclusive Economic Zone, is a fulcrum that connects the Indian Ocean and Pacific Ocean. The two oceans represent a combined maritime region which is important for global maritime trade and commerce<sup>34</sup>.

Both countries have also underscored the importance to address the emerging maritime security issues facing the Indo-Pacific region including the smuggling of people, arms, drugs and money; illegal, unreported and unregulated fishing; and the movement of terrorists. India and Indonesia have also explored the convergences and complementarities in the region between India's Act East Policy and Security and Growth for all in the Region (SAGAR), and Indonesian Ocean Policy and Indonesia's Global Maritime Fulcrum Vision. Therefore, they reaffirmed the importance of the ASEAN centrality and unity and have also recognized of the importance of the Blue Economy as a driver of inclusive and sustainable economic growth and development in the region<sup>35</sup>.

In pursuance to the above, the Leaders agreed to a Shared Vision for Maritime Cooperation in the Indo-Pacific region to harness the opportunities and to meet the challenges together as Comprehensive Strategic Partner and agreed to the following:

- Enhancing Trade and Investment Cooperation
- Promoting sustainable development of marine resources
- Expanding cooperation in disaster risk management
- Fostering tourism and cultural exchanges
- Promoting Maritime Safety and Security
- Strengthening academic, science and technology cooperation<sup>36</sup>.

Conclusion:

The cultural and linguistic similarities between the two countries have a greater impact on the political and economic relations in the contemporary times. India-Indonesia is in a position where they have abundance of opportunities to share their security and strategic concerns all together. In this regards their old historical and cultural ties becomes crucial bringing both nations together.
